

Parents as partners in their children's learning

All Parents and Carers of children in the Stirling Council Area are invited to an event:

"Keeping our children safe when using the Internet"

Hosted by Stirling Council

13th March 2010

10 am- 12.30 pm

at the

Raploch Community Campus
Drip Road, Stirling, FK8 3RA

This event will bring together parents, carers and professionals with the aim of sharing and understanding the risks in a modern, technological age; to begin to explore what we feel, what we think and what we can do. We will share information and ideas about working together with their child's school to keep our children safe

"I passionately believe that we have much to build on in Scottish education, and parents have a crucial role to play in this". Mike Russell, Cabinet secretary for Education and Lifelong Learning

Joe Shaw (ICT Curriculum Development Officer) will give a presentation on Internet Safety representatives from the Police, Education and Youth Services will be in attendance to support round table discussions
